Topic

What to do when your parents are disappointed with you

Problem

Parents may be disappointed when you fail to meet their expectations.

Solution

Making your parents believe that you are a responsible person.

- ✓ Tell them you have inherited many of their merits.
- ✓ Remind them that you have your own life goals as an individual.
- ✓ Explain how your lifestyle will help you in a positive way.

Evaluation

This may not change their opinions overnight, but eventually it will work.

The problem-solution pattern

Sample paragraph

Parents may get disappointed when you fail to meet their expectations. They may strongly object to your lifestyle and complain that you are wasting time on unimportant things. To solve this problem, you may try to make them understand that you are a responsible person. First tell them that you have inherited many of their merits. Then remind them that you have your own life goals as an individual. You can also explain how your lifestyle will help you in positive way. You may not be able to change your parents' opinions overnight, but if you keep trying, it will eventually work.
